-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Specification

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because the sections identified as "not applicable" should not be included at all. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1 and 2 are rejected as failing to define the invention in the manner required by 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph.

The claims are somewhat narrative in form, with indefinite language. The structure which goes to make up the device must be clearly and positively specified. The structure must be organized and correlated in such a manner as to present a complete operative device. Note the format of the claims in the patents cited.

In particular, claim 1, at line 14, recites the coil heater to be "located in said inlet opening;" however, claim 2 recites the coil heater to be "positioned in said outlet opening." The first position precludes the second position in a claim which depends from it.

The Examiner suggests the following claims:

1. A warmed display fixture comprising:

Art Unit: 3742

a housing comprising a low front wall, a back wall higher than the front wall, a bottom wall, a top wall, and end walls forming a display compartment, said housing having an opening providing access to the display compartment from outside the housing;

a stepped panel within said display compartment dividing the compartment into an upper air well above said stepped panel and a lower air well below said stepped panel;

an air passageway having an inlet opening above said stepped panel and an outlet opening below said stepped panel, the front, back, bottom, and end walls, and the stepped panel forming the passageway between said inlet and outlet openings;

said stepped panel comprising horizontal steps and risers therebetween;

said stepped panel also comprising heaters mounted beneath the horizontal steps;

a coil heater and at least one fan to circulate air over said coil heater, in said air inlet opening, under said stepped panel, and out said outlet opening.

2. The warmed display fixture as recited in claim 1, wherein said stepped panel comprises three steps.
3. The warmed display fixture as recited in claim 1, wherein said stepped panel is clad in ceramic tiles.
4. The warmed display fixture as recited in claim 1, further comprising a plurality of fans.

Art Unit: 3742

5. The warmed display fixture as recited in claim 1, wherein the coil heater is positioned adjacent said inlet opening.

6. The warmed display fixture as recited in claim 1, wherein the coil heater is positioned adjacent said outlet opening.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1 and 2, or suggested claims 1-6, would appear to be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.
